DEAR SIR:

I beg to inform you that on the Second Evening of my Sale, the 17th inst., I shall take the liberty of offering a MEDAL IN GOLD of what is well known to the Collectors as the

MANLY OR BLACKSMITH MEDAL.

The full description of which will be found in Colonel Snowden's work on "The Washington and National Medals."

This, the only one I have ever heard of or seen in this Metal, must be extremely rare.

Yours faithfully,

EDWARD COGAN.
